

ALLANDALE

MARC ROBINSON BIOGRAPHY

Marc Robinson is a born and bred Hunter Valley boy. Marc (a.k.a. 'Rob Dog') finished his HSC in 2006 and left school to pursue a career in building and construction. Having worked at Allandale Winery during several vintages as a school holiday job, Rob Dog realised he much preferred working at the sharp end of the wine industry and promptly left construction behind him.

Rob Dog became a full time employee of Allandale Winery in 2008 and has since enrolled in a part-time Wine Science degree at Charles Sturt University.

Rob Dog appreciates quality wine and is a big advocate towards the current trend of 'nose in glass' photography of anyone associated with the wine industry.

